MILLION MINERS TO QUIT TODAY IF PAY IS CUT

Union Backing May Halt Industry.

At midnight tonight, unless "a miracle" happens during the day, England will face her most drastic labor crisis with a strike of a million miners, backed by 4,500,000 in allied industries.
In Atlantic City a deadlock is near in negotiations between anthracite miners and operators. The agreements expire on Sept. 1.
Details of both situations are told below.

BY DON SKENE.

(Copyright, 1925, By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, July 31, 3 a. m.—Great Britain today faces what threatens to be the most disastrous industrial disturbance in its history. Desperate eleven-hour negotiations led by Prime Minister Baldwin have thus far failed to bring peace between coal miners and mine owners.
Yet there is a chance that today may see the disaster averted. This chance lies in Premier Baldwin's proposal for a government inquiry into the whole position of the coal trade. He promised the miners a government subsidy until the investigation can be completed next spring. The mine owners have not yet agreed to his terms. The subsidy offer means the nation would pay enough to maintain the present scale of wages and assume small profits to the owners.

Unless there is settlement in a few hours now there will be a complete stoppage of the British mines at midnight tonight (Friday), when the existing wage agreements terminate, with neither side able to agree on new terms.
Pledge General Support.
The crisis affects 1,000,000 miners, who are backed by 4,500,000 workers of allied trade unions.
Believing all hope for a settlement gone, a special committee of the powerful Trade Union congress, representing the railway men, locomotive engineers and firemen, railway clerks, and general transport workers, late yesterday afternoon pledged to the miners the full support of the 4,500,000 workers. It was decided unanimously to end all transportation and distribution of coal starting tomorrow (Saturday) noon.
The congress also voted to contribute adequate financial assistance to the miners, who reported lack of funds to carry on the strike for more than a month.

Baldwin's Efforts Fail.
Prime Minister Baldwin's efforts lasted to the early hours of this morning. Following a night meeting of the cabinet, at which the question of government assistance for two or three months for the industry, pending the royal commission's inquiry into the whole condition of British mining, was favorably considered, Mr. Baldwin again met the owners in a midnight conference.
He requested them to suspend the stoppage notices for a fortnight to allow the necessary discussions as to the manner of affording temporary assistance to the industry, the miners having agreed to cooperate in the inquiry. The owners will meet again this morning to consider the suggestion of withdrawing the notices, and the miners will meet the prime minister after the owners' decision is handed to him.
"Gulf Wide as Ever."
"Except for a miracle, I cannot see any way of avoiding the stoppage—the gulf is as wide as ever," declared W. A. Lee, secretary of the owners' association, after the meeting with Mr. Baldwin.
Mr. Baldwin later talked with the miners.
"The position is blacker than ever, and I see no hope of averting the stoppage tomorrow night," said A. J. Cook, secretary of the miners' federation, after leaving Mr. Baldwin.
The gravity of the situation was discussed throughout the day in parliament, which is reported to be considering a general trade levy if a prolonged stoppage comes. The miners want a national minimum wage not lower than the present minimum wage. The owners say they cannot pay this.
Police reinforcements were rushed to the Welsh anthracite district to restore order among 20,000 striking miners.

OPERATORS STAND PAT

Atlantic City, N. J., July 30.—(AP)—W. W. Inglis, chairman of the anthracite operators' club subcommittee, told the operators' club that they were standing pat.

Indict and Rush Trial of Drake Killers

CHICAGO—AS THE REST OF THE WORLD MUST IMAGINE IT

CHICAGO BROKER KILLED BY BOLT ON GOLF COURSE

Harold Stephens, a Chicago broker, was killed by lightning on the Clinton Valley golf course near Utica, Mich., after he and Norbert Kuehler of Detroit had taken refuge under a tree when a sudden thunderstorm caught them.
Kuehler was stunned by the bolt, but is recovering in a hospital. He attributed his escape from death to the fact that he had moved a few feet away to look at the sky.
Officials of Dillon, Read & Co. said Harold J. Stephens was a salesman for their firm and that he left several days ago for an automobile trip in Michigan, taking his wife and children with him. They had not been informed of his death last night. The Stephens home is at 1429 Lunt avenue.

New York, July 30.—(AP)—Louis Leonard was beaten to death with hammers by two men as he slept in his lower west side tenement apartment early today. His slayers escaped, one exclaiming in Italian, "We made a mistake," as they passed her bedside. Mrs. Leonard told police.
"We are on the wrong floor," she said one of them cried as they threw their hammers away.

5 Now Die of Rum to 1 in Pre-Dry Days

Five persons now die in Cook county of alcoholism where one person died from the same cause before prohibition.
Figures showing the number of booze deaths in the year preceding prohibition and the number who died from the effects of drinking poisonous liquor in the last twelve months were compiled yesterday by Miss Estelle Larson, secretary to Coroner Oscar Wolff. They reveal an increase of 500 per cent in fatalities at present, compared with the pre-prohibition period.
Moonshine Deaths Growing.
The average of moonshine deaths is rising steadily. There were 133 deaths in the last six months. There were only 79 deaths in the six months before that. And the toll will continue to mount, experts say, because of the increasing popularity of "recooked" alcohol.
"In many cases, persons have been intoxicated and fallen, dying from a fractured skull or have been run over by automobiles or other vehicles because of drunkenness," the coroner declared.

Will Penned on Petticoat Sends Ex-Heirs to Law

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—(AP)—When George W. Haseltine, wealthy eccentric reclusive, wrote his will on the hem of a woman's petticoat he started a flurry of legal skirmishes in which a suit filed in Superior court today by his attorneys was but another development.
The petticoat will, written while Haseltine was dying in a Los Angeles hospital, left $10,000 each to the hospital proprietor and a nurse. The remainder of the $500,000 estate was left to a grandniece.
After the petticoat was filed for probate the Young Woman's Christian association and Pomona college, both beneficiaries under a previous will, brought suit to have the document written on it set aside. Today's action by Haseltine's attorneys, Dell A. Schweitzer and Frank S. Hutson, likewise seeks recognition of the first will, by which they would come into possession of most of the estate.
In all suits the charge is made that Haseltine was not in full possession of his faculties.

Arrest Man on Charge He Threatened President

Tampa, Fla., July 30.—(AP)—Norman Klein, alias Norman Kelley, alias George Kelly, has been arrested in Tampa on charges of violating a special act of congress, protecting the President of the United States. Klein, who was taken by department of justice agents, is being held on charges of writing letters to President Coolidge threatening his life. He is being held incommunicado.

WILDA BENNETT CAR KILLS GIRL; FREY THE DRIVER

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The red rooster of Wilda Bennett, musical comedy star, hit a motorcycle and scooter star, hit a motorcycle and scooter car in which an engaged young couple were riding through the Bronx tonight. The girl was thrown to the pavement and died a short time later. Miss Bennett's car was being driven by Charles C. Frey, well known horseman, whose wife sued the actress last spring for $100,000 for alienation of his affections. Miss Bennett was in the car.
The girl who lost her life was Miss Anna Beach of Woodside, L. I. There were no witnesses to the accident save the victims of it, but from what the police could learn, there was some miscalculation of signals at an intersection.
Frey was locked up on a technical charge of homicide. He was later released on bail. The driver of the motorcycle declared that Frey had no driver's license.

Dallas, Tex., July 30.—(AP)—Harry Cooper, young golf professional, established what is believed to be a world's record when he made a score of 60 over the eighteen hole Tension course today. The previous record of 62 was made by Walter Hagen in Florida last spring. Cooper putted just twenty-three times.

Learn Tracy Boy Talked of Joining Circus

If Dwight Tracy is not in the lake he may be following a circus across Wisconsin or, in company with a shabby, tough looking lad, some 13 years old, trying to find the circus.

This was the belief last night of the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Altee H. Tracy, 5787 Blackstone avenue. Three persons have established the fact that the little boy, who has been missing since last Monday afternoon, played in Jackson park all afternoon with a boy, about 13, and was with him at 5 o'clock on the bridge over a lagoon directly south of the main part of the old Fine Arts building.

Mother and Cop's Stories Tally.

Two mothers, whose children play regularly on the 59th street beach at the German building and who were familiar with the Tracy child, and a Jackson park policeman have substantiated these facts. The stories of all three tally to a detail, and were given yesterday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Tracy.

Mrs. Mayme Lesley, 1335 East 61st street, told the missing boy's mother yesterday that on Monday she took her six year old child to the 59th street beach.
During the morning Dwight played with Mrs. Lesley's child, but now and then would join an older boy who sat apart on a bench. This boy, Mrs. Lesley said, was surely looking and seemed to be some 13 years old.
When the sudden dash of rain came up about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Mrs. Lesley said she told Dwight he had better go home.

Mentions Joining Circus.

"Now, I'm not going home. Me and that boy are going to join the circus," Dwight replied, according to Mrs. Lesley.
"How are you going to get down town?" Mrs. Lesley asked.
"We'll hook rides," the 7 year old replied, according to Mrs. Lesley.
This, according to his parents, is not out of character.
So, Mrs. Lesley said, she took her child home out of the storm and left the big boy and Dwight on the lake front, talking about Dwight's scooter, which the child had laid upon the walk when he ate his lunch.

That scooter was found yesterday hidden between two piles at the 59th street beach, just about where Mrs. Lesley said they ate lunch, and gave rise to the theory that Dwight undoubtedly drowned.
This story was given more strength by Mrs. J. J. Walsh, 454 West 32d street, who sat at the beach in her closed car and saw Dwight playing on the sidewalk with a big boy.

Policeman Adds His Story.

And, last, a park policeman told Dwight's father that he had scolded the big boy at about 5 o'clock, when he saw the two playing together near the old Fine Arts building, because the older boy was teasing his little playmate. He was withholding a can was shoe, and the little boy had a cut on his forehead. The man was seen by the policeman killing across the bridge over the lagoon just south of the old building.

The two boys who found Dwight's scooter were questioned last night by Detectives Ray Crane and Alex McCabe. The stories of both boys, Bruno Kindeley, 4617 South Robey street, and Francis Knaperek, 4609 South Robey street, were unchanged under long questioning. They said they found the scooter Monday afternoon and returned it yesterday after finding Dwight's name on the under side.

CIVIC FORCES RALLY TO NEW WAR ON CRIME

Hold Two Outlaws; Hunt Another.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

The prosecution of the three surviving members of that quintet of drunken, swashbuckling pseudo-brave men who careened into the Drake hotel Wednesday afternoon and staged one of the most spectacular robber-murders of many a day will proceed along precisely the same lines as the crime itself.
For the prosecution is to be speedy and direct.
And it, like the crime, will have death as its objective. Only, in this case it will not be the purposeless death of an innocent clerk; it will be the legal death by hanging of the two men who have confessed to participation in the robbery, though denying the murder, and of the third man, if he is captured.

The Day's Developments.

In brief yesterday's important developments are as follows:
1. Joseph Holmes, the cursing Texan rover; Jack Wilson, alias Woods, the nervous ex-convict from the Edgewater Beach hotel, and William J. Mullenscheck, his fugitive pal, were indicted by the grand jury for the murder of Frank Blair Rodkey, Drake hotel employe. Holmes and Wilson were arraigned before Chief Justice of the Criminal Court Jacob Hopkins and pleaded not guilty.
2. Chief of Detectives William Schoemacher and twelve squads combed the city for Mullenscheck. There are many variants of this spelling, and the indictment reads Mullenscheck. His apprehension will do more than round up the third man. It will help solve the question of the disappearance of the stolen money, a sum fixed at $4,146.19 by Hotel Comptroller W. H. Vallette. Only a little of it was found on the other four bandits.
Nab Three Men.
3. Sergt. John O'Malley and his squad arrested three acquaintances of Mullenscheck at his flat, 4926 Winthrop avenue. All denied any knowledge of the crime. The three are: James Kirk, salesman, living at 839 Wilson avenue; Alex Pulaski, 4716 Princeton avenue; and Marvin Newton. Pulaski and Newton were recently released from the Bridewell.
4. An aroused citizenry backed up the coherency of the state's attorney's office and the police. While Judge Hopkins was asking for a double quota of judges for the Criminal court (many judges are on vacation), the board of supervisors of the Chicago Bar association was volunteering some of the ablest attorneys in its membership to serve as special prosecutors.
5. Coroner's inquest over the deaths of Eric Nelson, alias Niles, and Ted ("Tex") Court, the two of the five who died as part of the Wednesday afternoon panorama, were continued.
Name Holmes as Killer.
In all phases of yesterday's chronicle the main agreement was that Holmes was the man who killed Rodkey. Six witnesses appeared before the grand jury and testified to this. And later one of the six, George Barr, of the Drake, calmly went over the vivid fifteen minutes of robbery and murder, and definitely fixed the actual killing on Holmes.
State's Attorney Crowe had previously refused to ask for robbery indictments against either Holmes or the two other bandits. "This is a case of murder, not robbery," he said, "and these three men deserve the noose."
The indictment was voted in record time, after numerous witnesses had appeared before the grand jury and told their stories.
But there were other things, too, that pattern themselves into the story—quicker things.
Out at her home, 4281 South Michigan avenue, Mrs. Rodkey, aided by her two sons, made arrangements for the funeral of her husband from the home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.
Alibiists Examined.
And last night, over at the state's attorney's office, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe called in four alibiists, had them examine Holmes and Wilson and receive their report of the sanity of both.

Dr. William G. Krohn, psychiatrist and author who testified for the state in the Loeb-Leopold trial, was in charge of the mental examinations.

TWO CAPTURED DRAKE BANDITS CONFESS CRIME

Give Details of Plan and Execution of Stickup.

All the details of the planning and execution of the spectacular bandit raid on the Drake hotel were in the hands of Chief of Detectives William H. Schoemaker and State's Attorney Crowe last night. They were contained in the confessions of two of the five robbers, Jack Wilson, alias Woods, and Joseph Holmes.

Wilson's confession went into great detail. He told how he met the men whose persuasions now have landed him in the shadow of the noose. He said he has been employed at the Edgewater beach hotel as a bus boy for one week, but left his job three weeks ago.

Met Nelson at Hotel. "It was at the hotel," he said, "that I met Erik (or Irving) Nelson. He was employed there as a waiter."

Nelson is one of the bandits who was killed. "I met William Mullenshuck," Wilson continued, "on the steamship Comas of the Morgan line, plying between New York and New Orleans, about Feb. 1. I talked with him for 15 minutes."

"Mullenshuck and I met again in the United States Shipping board employment bureau at New Orleans. That time he showed me his papers. He was an able seaman. I then went to work on the steamship Salvation, while he went on another."

"I first met Ted Court, alias Tex, at New Orleans on Dec. 19, 1924. I met him again here in Chicago, at State and Congress streets, four or five weeks ago. Court introduced me to Holmes, known as Jack Hill and Blackie, there on State street."

Their First Talk of Holdup. "We had our first talk about the robbery on last Sunday. Mullenshuck, Nelson and I met in Mullenshuck's room at 4222 Winthrop avenue. Nelson said: 'What's the use of working all the time; you never have anything.' He said: 'We might as well go out and get something big and have it over with.' Then he said he knew where we could get between $20,000 and $30,000. He said nothing further at that time."

"All five of us, myself, Mullenshuck, Court, Holmes, and Nelson met again on Tuesday. That meeting again was in Mullenshuck's room. Nelson talked again about the robbery to the others. I didn't pay much attention to him at that time."

"We met again about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. We were in Mullenshuck's room for a time. Nelson wanted to know if we were going down and stage this robbery he had talked about."

"I didn't know until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when we started out, where it was to be. He told me as we were getting into the automobile that we were going to rob the Drake. Nelson drove the Cadillac. We left the car

Finding of Scooter Brings Hope to Lost Boy's Parents

Finding of the scooter of Dwight Tracy, the 7 year old boy, who has been missing from his home at 5707 Blackstone avenue since Monday, led to fresh efforts on the part of his parents to find him. Mr. and Mrs. Alice H. Tracy are shown questioning boys with scooters in Jackson park.

parked on Walton place, half way between the park and Michigan avenue. "We went into the Drake from Walton place. I carried a double barreled shotgun that Nelson gave me in the car. It was wrapped in paper and in a brown paper bag. I unwrapped it as I got on the second floor at the hotel office."

"Mullenshuck, Nelson, Court, and Holmes all had revolvers. Nelson covered the cashier in the cage. I stood back about twenty feet with the shotgun over my arm. Court stood at the office door."

"Court is wounded. "Suddenly two shots were fired through the plaster near that door. Court sort of doubled up. He was able to get to the street by himself, though, when the rest of them went. Mullenshuck came out of the hotel carrying a black bag with the money in it. He and Nelson were together."

"We all wore masks. When we got down in the street, Court sank down on the sidewalk. I tried to catch him as he was sinking and carry him, but on account of my thumb being injured I couldn't do it."

"None of the others tried to help Court so I had to drop him and get into the automobile. Nelson drove the machine east, around Lake Shore drive and turned north at the other end of the hotel. We went through Lincoln park."

"When we got to Center street our car collided with another one. We all got out. Mullenshuck and I walked south for one block. Then we got into a Yellow taxicab. Mullenshuck told the driver to go. We got to Winthrop and Argyle. There we got out of the cab and went to Mullenshuck's room. "We remained there about 15 minutes. Mullenshuck carried the satchel with the money. We took grab out of the satchel. I got about $700. I then made an appointment to see Mullenshuck at 2206 Winthrop avenue, where I roomed. As I left, Mullenshuck said: 'There is about $1,000 left in that satchel.' We then parted."

"I went to Court's restaurant at 1139 Taylor street, and gave Cozzi $675 to hold for me and he gave me a receipt. Cozzi called a doctor for me and I was taken to the Jefferson Park hospital about 7 o'clock. I was there until I was arrested about midnight."

This confession in certain of its details corroborated that of Holmes, who had made his statement earlier. Holmes told of robbing the hotel employees of their watches and valuables while the others were out at the cage getting the $10,000 they originally escaped with. He told how the men started out on their spectacular robbery."

Nelson Tells of Plan. "We got in the car," he said. "Then Nelson said: 'This is a stickup we're going on. You fellows are out of work and broke and this is an easy way to get some money. It will be as easy as a match going through a box.'"

"Most of Holmes' confession dealt with the details of how he and Tex met the other trio, became acquainted with them and agreed to "pull the job" with them."

Four Bandits Hold Up Village Bank; Get $2,000. Four men armed with shotguns and pistols at 238 yesterday afternoon held up Federal Reserve bank and robbed the Peoples State bank of Graceville, four miles from Morris, Ill. George Barton, the cashier, said the robbers got about $2,000.

WIFE CONFESSES PAYING $400 FOR KILLING OF MATE

Money Well Spent, Too, She Tells Police.

(Picture on back page.) Mrs. Nellie Noble is penniless. She has spent $400 of the $1,000 insurance her husband, Louis, left when he died of bullet wounds and the United Charities pays the rent for the small flat she and her five daughters occupy at 2121 Kendall street. The other $400 she sent with her compliments to the killer of Louis, and last night she declared it was worth it.

She was quite willing, even anxious, to tell her story to Lieut. Philip Carroll of the detective bureau. For, in her code, Noble got nothing but his best when Andrew Capo slew him.

Annoyed Her Daughter, She Says. "He was after my daughter (his step-daughter), Mildred Glogano. There she is. She is 15 years old. And when I told him not to do such things he best me; many times he best me." She folded her hands and nodded to the interpreter, Anthony Russo, a stickup man belonging to the Jack Shapiro gang. "O, but yes; it was worth much more than $400."

Andrew Capo, 435 Garibaldi place, and James Sultino, 2013 West Polk street, are in custody. They listened to the tale of the widow and admitted that they plotted with her the death of Noble. It was Capo who killed him and Sultino who took the $400.

Slain as He Beat Wife. The manner of the killing was simple. Capo walked home from a party with Noble and his wife. In the kitchen, Mrs. Noble said, Louis started to beat her in the presence of Capo. It was nothing new; just the regular daily beating. Capo interfered. Noble swung a chair at him and Capo fired. The husband fell dead and the killer went home to wait for his reward.

In the investigation of the murder Mrs. Noble said that she did not know the man who walked in and shot her husband. Last night she asserted she knew Capo had a revolver and intended to use it.

The disclosure of Capo's guilt came after he had given the police the tip that led to the arrest of Leonard Russo, a Shapiro gang member, with the 19 year old Mrs. Capo in Milwaukee.

DENY BANDITS WERE TO HAVE PART IN RODEO

Officials of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday, after checking up the entry lists of the coming rodeo and after viewing Joseph Holmes and the body of "Texas" Ted Court, denied that these two Drake bandits had or were to have any part in the wild west show.

"My manager and my agents are positive neither ever participated in any of the rodeos," said Tex Austin, who is directing the contests for the association. "They have witnessed every rodeo held during the last few years and they know not only every contestant but most of the wranglers and other rodeo attaches as well."

Holmes in his first statements said that he and Court had come to Chicago to take part in the rodeo. Austin, however, doubted that they had ever worked on a ranch, and he termed them small town swaggers and bad men. He declared entrants in the rodeos must have clean records to get in, and he added a word about the way Texas handles those who haven't.

"We have a way of dealing with men like those who held up the Drake hotel," he allowed, "which keeps them out of the country from which the rodeos come."

FRENCH-ENGLISH DEBT FUNDING PLAN BREAKS UP

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) PARIS, July 30.—The French debt funding negotiations with London were broken off after four days of discussion.

The French and British viewpoints toward the funding of the French war debt are irreconcilable, and the French delegation, which had intended to remain in England several weeks, is returning today.

The British asked the French government to make a temporary agreement for three or four years under which France would pay $5,000,000 ($15,000,000 annually) until the French capacity to pay is known, but Joseph Caillaux flatly refused.

The breakdown in the negotiations certainly will have some effect on the funding negotiations in Washington, which are based on the London agreement.

The negotiations with London may not be resumed until next year.

JUDGE LYLE IS SENT BACK TO CRIMINAL COURT

Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, whose insistence on $100,000 bonds for gunmen led Chief Justice Harry Olson to remove him from the South Clark street police court bench, will return to the criminal division of the city court next Monday. Orders assigning Judge Lyle to the Maxwell street court and shifting practically all of the other judges to new posts were issued yesterday by Judge Olson.

The reassignment of Judge Lyle to the criminal division ends his controversy with Chief Justice Olson.

Judge Lyle's only comment on the transfer—"I'm anxious to get out there and go to work"—indicates that he intends to continue the high bond policy, which, he believes, may be invoked as a strong crime deterrent.

Other judges who will remain in their present assignment during the coming court term are Judge Edgar Jonas in the Boyer court, Judge Joseph McCarthy in the South Clark street court, and Judge Philip Finnegan in the East Chicago avenue court.

ARREST EX-WIFE ON CHARGE OF STEALING SONS

Mrs. Mas Stockham, 949 Belden avenue, an examiner of titles for the Chicago Title and Trust company, was arrested last night on an Ohio warrant charging her with stealing her two sons, John and George, 13 and 10 years old, from her former husband, Russell Stockham, wealthy commission merchant of Portsmouth, O.

Stockham told the police that he was awarded the custody of the boys when he obtained a divorce. This Mrs. Stockham denied. She said that she waived alimony but was awarded the children, with a proviso that they were not to be taken from the state.

She added that Stockham violated the agreement first by taking both boys to Kentucky, and that she took them while they were in the latter state and brought them to Chicago.

"Mr. Stockham used his influence with Gov. Donahay of Ohio to obtain an extradition warrant," she asserted. "His sister is married to a nephew of the governor."

YOUTH AND 44 POILUS FIGHT OFF 900 MOORS

Hold Post for France in Two Weeks' Battle.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FEZ, French Morocco, July 30.—A young officer, several French noncommissioned officers, and a small group of Algerian miltailleurs constitute the remaining effective force in the besieged post of Ain Bou Aissa. This garrison numbered forty-five two weeks ago, when the Rifians encircled the position, cut it off from all communication, and opened a bitter attack, which has been unrelenting night and day for fourteen days.

This handful of men is resisting the onslaughts of a force now estimated at 900 Berber sharpshooters, who yesterday were reinforced by two pieces of captured artillery. The northern wall of the Ain Bou Aissa defense first was breached and then levelled by expert fire from one of these cannons. The French believed they are being manned by white soldiers of fortune serving Abd-el Krim.

Repel Rifian Charge.
When the Rifians tried to rush the breach they found the defenders' machine guns posed at both corners of the levelled wall still unsilenced and the Rifian charge was broken up by withering machine gun fire and showers of hand grenades, which halted the first attacking wave and then drove it

BATTLE

BAGDAD, Mesopotamia, July 30.—A hundred Arabs have been killed by Persian government troops which attacked the palace of the Sheik of Muhammared at Fasilahieh, where a band of Arabs established themselves July 24 after storming the town and looting its bazaars. Six Persians were killed. The scene of the trouble is at the head of the Persian gulf near the Mesopotamian-Persian frontier.

to cover with serious losses, numerous bodies being left. The stench from the unburied dead lying on the slopes in front of the defenders under the blazing African sun is frightful.

The number of dead among the casualties of the post is not known. The number of remaining effective men is so small and the attack so continuous, night and day, that the defenders manning the three machine guns and one trench mortar, composing the post ordinance, now are depending on the aviation service for relief, during which they can snatch a few hours' sleep.

Sleep Waits on Bombers.
Every day or two, squadrons of air bombers are assigned to circle the attackers' positions, dropping bombs and spraying their trenches with machine guns, while the wearied defenders of the post sleep. The post is not equipped with radio, and the only communication is by a code arrangement of white panels on the ground under the observation of aviators, who continue to supply the post daily from the air with munitions, food, bandages, and ice. The last message sent to the flyers today read:

"Two days' reserve water supply. Continue ice deliveries and bombing parties so we can get much needed sleep. Drop cigarettes and matches for wounded, who are all happy, some even manning guns. Hot down here. Foul weather up there."

Five miles away, 150 military guns of the Territorial post are assisting Ain Bou Aissa by maintaining a long range bombardment, while air bombers are searching the terrain to discover the Rif fieldpieces, which are believed to be hidden in caves at the foot of the rocky mountains, so that they cannot be hit from the air.

See Ruze by Moors.

Is the intensive Rif attack on Ain Bou Aissa being made to divert reserves from the west and north of Ouassan and make the way easier for the expected Rif offensive in that quarter? Is Ain Bou Aissa destined to hold out as long as possible before the ultimate sacrifice, rather than risk the movement of a change in the position of more valuable, more strategically placed French reserves?

These are the questions being asked. Within a few days the valiant defenders of Ain Bou Aissa will write the answer into the history of this campaign, maybe with their lives and blood.

Nautil Wine Irishman.

A humorous story is told here of the remark of an Irishman in the foreign legion regarding Gen. Nautil, the new commander in chief of the French troops in Morocco.

"He spells it Nautil, but he pronounces it Nolan. I believe he is one of us," was the observation made by the Irishman.

Report Lyantey Will Quit.

Deneen Maps Congress Drive for Chicago Outlets to Sea

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Swampscott, Mass., July 30.—[Special.]—From the viewpoint of the middle and far west no more important benefit can be conferred by the congress which meets next December than provision for the lakes to the gulf waterway and the St. Lawrence seaway, according to Senator Charles S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.]. Mr. Deneen left for Washington and Chicago today after being the guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge at White Court.

The senator said that these waterways are becoming essential to the development of the interior of the country. More adequate transportation is needed and the railroads are not expanding. The construction of the waterways will not be antagonistic to the railroads, but will supplement their facilities.

Illinois Spending Millions.

Illinois, Senator Deneen explained, is expending twenty million for completion of the waterway link between Chicago and the mouth of the Illinois. About all the government will need to do to make the gulf waterway an actuality is the deepening of the channel at certain points between the mouth of the Illinois and Cairo.

Whether the amount of diversion from Lake Michigan permitted by the war department for Chicago drainage purposes will be sufficient for waterway navigation purposes is one of the problems with which congress may be called upon to deal with eventually. He is studying the question with a view to introducing a bill in congress providing for federal cooperation with the state in the construction and maintenance of the lakes to the gulf waterway.

St. Lawrence Seaway.

No less important is the St. Lawrence seaway which will enable the grain growers of the west to ship directly to Europe from lake ports, Senator Deneen said. American and Canadian boards are now studying this problem and if Canada agrees to cooperate the only remaining obstacle will be opposition along the Atlantic seaboard of the United States, principally centering in New York and New Jersey.

Inasmuch as both the Republican and Democratic parties in their 1924 platforms are committed to the creation of both the lakes to the gulf and St. Lawrence waterways, the middle west and far west, Senator Deneen asserted, have a right to expect the fulfillment of these pledges without delay. He said he is taking up his work in the senate determined to insist upon favorable action on these projects.

The senator said that he had given such information as he possesses to President Coolidge regarding economic conditions in the middle west. There is a bumper corn crop in prospect and prices are comparatively high. The farmers have been paying their debts for a year or more and their purchasing power will be greatly increased by their profits on this year's corn crop.

Is Against Tariff Revision.

Senator Deneen fought shy of discussing farm legislation. He is waiting to see what the farm organizations decide to ask congress for. At any rate he is not one of those who thinks that there should be a new revision of the tariff in order to reduce duties on the manufactured articles the farmer consumes. He had not heard that Illinois farmers were demanding the reduction of protection enjoyed by the manufacturers if the farmers are not to be allowed to boost the price of their products in the manner proposed by the McNary-Haughen bill.

The Illinois senator, unlike his predecessor, the late Senator McCormick, will support President Coolidge's proposal that the United States join the world court, with certain reservations.

U.S. TAKES STEPS TO PUT LOCK ON FISH FANS' CLUB

Starts Action Under Dry Injunction Law.

Assistant District Attorney Leo Klein appeared before Federal Judge Wilkerson yesterday and obtained permission to file a bill of information against three persons connected with the Fish Fans club at the time of the raid and for whom warrants had been issued.

Most significant of the seven counts of the information was one which charged that the three persons were guilty of maintaining a public nuisance. The club was raided Saturday, members' lockers smashed and booze found.

Wants to Padlock Club.
That count indicates the intention of the district attorney's office to go through with the original plan of seeking an injunction closing the Fish Fans' club at Belmont harbor.

The persons named in the information are Jacob Fabacher, manager of the club; Richard Naser, until his resignation yesterday caterer for the organization; and William Elsmann, head waiter.

In addition to the pre-injunction count in the information the three men were named in three counts charging possession of liquor and three charging sale of intoxicants.

Jail Maximum Penalty.
According to Mr. Klein the maximum penalties under the information are one year and a half in jail and $3,500 fine for each of the defendants.

Despite the action before Judge Wilkerson, it was said that Fabacher and Naser will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner James R. Glass. The warrant for Elsmann had not been served last night, although the head waiter had been at the club throughout the day.

CALLS INTERCLUB PARLEY

So that no court precedent may be established which will provide prohibition officials with power to padlock private clubs whose members happen to have booze in their lockers, officers of the Fish Fans club yesterday paved the way for a conference with representatives of all the city's leading clubs.

District Attorney Olson has threatened to bring injunction proceedings to close permanently the Fish Fans clubhouse, because of liquor found in lockers.

Should such action be successful, it was pointed out by Attorney James W. Breen, counsel for the club, similar steps might be taken against any club in the city. So to offset this dangerous precedent, Samuel Gessler, acting president of the club, announced the formation of a committee of the Fish Fans which will call into conference officers of all the leading golf, yachting, tennis, polo, riding, hunting and fishing and other clubs of sporting and social purposes.

"Sipol pigeons could be sent into any club to obtain membership, then stock their lockers with booze and promote a raid. Then would come a federal padlock. That is exactly what they are trying to do with the Fish Fans' club," Mr. Gessler said.

Fighting Committee Picked.

Meanwhile the work of selecting the committee of 500 Fish Fans to fight the injunction proceedings and to protest against the methods of the prohibition authorities was practically completed.

Those who have been asked to serve on the committee of 500 include:

British L. Bodd, Charles C. Pittsford, William J. Bink, Harry Elston, Atty. Gen. Carlstrom, Henry Paschen, J. Hamilton Lewis, John T. Conner, L. I. Emerson, Francis P. Brady, Leat. Gov. Sterling, William Yeacock, George F. Getz, Richey V. Graham, Richard J. Barr, Samuel A. Hilsen, John A. Bure, Joseph P. Hase, William B. Feiser, Anton J. Cernak, Edward J. Kaindl, John L. Spillman, Henry L. Fish, Daniel Ryan, Robert Naylor, O. von Lengerke, Dorsey Crowe, Charles Krutickoff, Ernest M. Cross, Leonard J. Brownman, Solomon P. Schneider, Patrick H. O'Donnell, Thomas J. O'Grady, James C. W. McKinlay, W. W. Alschlager, Edwin W. Sims, Bernard P. Baras, Daniel Dever, Morris Klier, George Klier.

It is presumed, however, that some of the foregoing will not serve.

Notices are to be mailed out by tomorrow, Attorney Breen said, the meeting date to be fixed on an early day next week.

FRENCH ASSAIL FASCIST TERROR CRUSHING ITALY

'Stand with The Tribune' Against Dictator.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME [by courier to Paris], July 30.—The resumption of the Fascist reign of terror, for reporting which, incidentally, THE TRIBUNE correspondent was deported from Italy, began with a speechmaking campaign by Sig. Farinacci, general secretary of the Fascist party and Premier Mussolini's right hand man.

"We must get rid of our enemies by fair or foul means," Sig. Farinacci preached throughout Sicily, and every incitation to violence was broadcast by Premier Mussolini's official organ, Popolo d'Italia.

The first brilliant success of this period of terrorism was an attack on Sig. Amendola, spokesman for the five opposition parties and generally acknowledged leader of liberal democratic Italy, now Premier Mussolini's largest enemy. If he survives the after effects of his present wounds, Sig. Amendola may some day be premier or president of Italy.

Crash Free Press.
The second success was the renewed suppression of all except Fascist papers. Official notices were given the Corriere Della Sera of Milan and the Stampa of Turin that unless they ceased to publish political views unfavorable to Fascism they will be suppressed completely instead of four or five days a week, as at present.

The third success was a riot by the Fascists, when offices of certain newspapers and lawyers who defend non-Fascists, and the homes of leading non-Fascist citizens were raided and burned.

The fourth success, illustrating another phase of the new Fascist violence, was an attack on Catholics in Spazio. The Catholic club was ransacked and the Catholics clubbed. A cross of the Sacred Heart, a picture of the pope, and numerous holy objects were burned by the Fascists.

In addition to this there are numerous small acts of terrorism, such as the suppression of newspapers almost daily, assaults upon non-Fascists, and the usual club waving and revolver intimidation, on which the real bulk of the terrorism depends.

Cause of Terror.
The reasons for the recrudescence of terrorism are two:
1. The ascendancy of Sig. Farinacci since Premier Mussolini took ill and began losing full control of the party.
2. The desire of the government to prepare for a bloodless solution of the Matteotti case, which threatens Italy today more than the nonpolitical volcanoes, Vesuvius and Etna.

Sig. Farinacci duplicates Djerzinsky of bolshevik Russia. Each heads a checka organization and each denies that the checka terrorism exists.

All Italy knows the government dare not call the Matteotti case and hold an open trial without revelations that might lead to a revolution. Sig. Farinacci's solution of the problem is to drive out all newspaper men who are interested in the Matteotti case and to frighten the rest, and then to suppress the two great liberal newspapers.

Next to the assassination of Deputy Matteotti the most serious outrage was the attempt to kill Sig. Amendola. The day following the attack Premier Mussolini's newspaper defended the ambush against the opposition leader because Sig. Amendola's name led a list of those protesting against the freeing of Gen. De Bono for complicity in the Matteotti murder.

A BIG STRIDE TOWARD THE WELFARE OF CHICAGO HOUSEHOLDS

The New CREAM TOP Milk Bottle Hood Sealed

Study this bottle; sense what it means. You order milk, and get lots of good cream with it. We give you the cream spoon that gets it all. Monday, and henceforth, the richest milk at the lowest price in any great city, in Cream Top Bottles safety-sealed. This is the hood seal you've read about in The Ladies' Home Journal, Good Housekeeping, Woman's Home Companion, Literary Digest and other publications. The whole country is adopting it; Wieland brings it to Chicago. Use coupon!

Lots of Rich Cream for One Cent!

MONDAY MORNING the residents of the north and northwest sides will awake to a new purity and economy in their milk supply. A further step toward scrupulously clean milk and rich cream, in the new Cream Top Bottle. And sealed with a Standard Hood Seal.

FOR MANY YEARS Wieland has supplied the north and northwest sides and suburbs with the best milk obtainable. From the finest herds, transported in glass-lined refrigerator tank cars, perfectly pasteurized, producing a milk uniform in food value and cream content.

NOW, the same superior Wieland milk may be obtained in a new and ingenious bottle—from which you can pour off a generous top of pure cream—as much of it as you want, or all of it—without a drop of milk mixed with it.

OVER THE TOP of this new bottle is a sterile seal, locked on by machinery, at the moment of bottling. Keeps entire top of bottle clean. Keeps hands off, and dirt out. And no one can tamper with the contents. All this for one cent! Think of the enjoyment of this ever-ready source of rich cream—and the economy!

14 CENTS per quart is still the price for our standard milk in regular bottles. If you are taking milk from Wieland you know its quality. And if you order it in the cream-top and safety-sealed bottle, an additional cent per quart is charged.

YOU CAN HAVE this new convenience from next Monday on, if you live on the north or northwest side, or in Evanston, Wilmette, Winnetka or Hubbard Woods. But please speak up! We promise to accommodate all. Use the coupon, or phone us Lakeview 2900—we'll not fail you.

Wieland Dairy Co.
Chicago, July 31st

Phone or Write the Wieland Dairy Today!

The new Cream Top Bottle means your household is never without a bit of cream for your coffee—or the children's cereal. The special spoon we give you makes it a simple matter to get every drop of the cream. But don't overlook the feature of protected purity:

When you press down the sealing ring and remove the paper hood, you know that you are the first to see or handle the pouring top of your bottle since it passed thru the automatic filling and capping machine in Wieland's Dairy. If the sealing ring is not in place do not accept the milk. You may know that it has been tampered with.

The Health Department of many cities has issued public warnings to clean the pouring lip of milk bottles. But there can never be any danger where the bottle is hood-sealed. So, you see, the hood and seal is a very essential and very sensible precaution.

Every child should have a quart of pure milk every day. It is also the best food for adults. But be sure it's pure. Beginning next Monday, you can have all your milk in this safety-sealed, cream-top bottle. But tell us you want it. Use the coupon. Or call Lakeview 2900.

Elmer Finds Air Lanes Full of Good Music

Soloists and Orchestras
Win His Praise.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

In general last night was vocal soloists' night. First, though, an organ recital by Edward Benedict through WTAS was tumbled upon shortly after 8. This popular-novely recital was extremely interesting. Later, the station's Elgin dance orchestra took the air, but as popular as their music seems to be the writer can not put it to use.

Still lower in this interesting section of the dial at 7:50, an orchestra bearing the earmarks of one midway in size between a little symphony and a regular symphony, playing either Schubert's Unfinished symphony or selections from "Blossom Time" (the latter being from the former). This turned out to be the Woodlawn theater orchestra; station WMBR. The balance of the semi-classical program by the Trianon ensemble and vocal soloists were high class.

Now for the soloists, beginning with a series of decidedly pleasing duets by William B. Stevenson, tenor, and Marian Paul Babcock, coloratura soprano.

At 8:45, a straight recital, and the writer is partial to straight recitals, by Mrs. Frederic Winn, soprano. Here is a high voice, pure white, brilliant, flexible, and its owner understands the fine art of program building.

Now turning from the high audio frequency of the soprano voices to the low audio frequency of the baritone and basses, we find at 8:50, Dr. Alex A. Shere, a basso-profundo, with a voice so large it makes the notes and staff lines seem microscopic. Here is an ideal operatic basso of merit and distinction, and if I were the Chicago Civic opera director—well, at all events I would know the reason why not!

Let's bring in another outsider, O. E. Gebhardt, baritone, really rather a basso-baritone, of Dayton, O., on this program, partly because this voice seems to represent the concert stage, and we like also to have the concert stage represented.

And if space permits, which it did not in yesterday's story, an inward urge prompts the assertion that the Cavotte from Saint-Saens' First instrumental trio, played Wednesday night by the W-G-N string trio, was the prettiest, happiest, most dashing piece the writer ever heard over the radio.

JAPAN CABINET RESIGNS; KATO PLANS NEW RULE

BY RODERICK MATTHESON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
TOKYO, July 30.—Following weeks of internal jockeying, the coalition cabinet resigned en bloc today after a stormy council. Premier Kato notified the regent, who is consulting Prince Sironji, a leader in the Seiyukai party. It is expected that Vicecount Kato will form a straight Kenseikai ministry. Meanwhile foreign questions are suspended, including the official plans for the funeral of the late United States ambassador, Edgar A. Bancroft.

U.S. TARS SWAMP AUSTRALIA I.W.W. IN FLEET VISIT

Labor Decries Bolos Who Try to Cause Trouble.

BY JACK MYERS.

(Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.)

MELBOURNE, July 30.—(AP)—Both Americans and Australians are astonished at reports circulated in the United States that the American sailors were attacked in Melbourne and Sydney and that an organized attempt was made to boycott the American fleet.

Dr. Arzyle, Victorian minister controlling the police, expressed amazement tonight at the report, which he said was absolutely unfounded.

"The American sailors were not attacked," he said. "As every one here knows, they were welcomed with open arms in all sections by the people."

Admiral Denies Tale. Admiral Coontz and other senior officers of the fleet emphatically repudiate the report and confirm their previously expressed gratification with the wonderful welcome the men received on all sides.

The general feeling here is that a regrettable false impression apparently has been created in America when the visit is a stupendous success. The officers and men were received with unprecedented enthusiasm and hospitality and accorded a magnificent, wholehearted welcome, including that by Premier Lang and other labor ministers of New South Wales; Mr. Prendergast, labor leader of Victoria, who spoke at a state banquet tonight; Senator Needham, who spoke in behalf of the federal laborites of the commonwealth at the banquet, and numerous other leaders, industrial, political, and labor.

Premier Lang and other laborites strongly attacked the I. W. W. and communists, whose efforts to create trouble were without result.

Few Cases of Trouble. In a few cases American sailors may have consumed more Australian beer and Scotch whiskey than they were accustomed to and engaged in brawls at hotel bars, with isolated instances of physical injury and theft. The most serious case apparently is that of one drinking American sailor who stabbed two other American sailors.

Considering the great number, more than 20,000, of sailors, mostly youth, and the lavish hospitality, the cases requiring attention by the authorities are remarkably few. There is much tribute to the good behavior of the men, though it is impossible to eliminate disorder completely in cities of 1,000,000 population. Generally the personal relations between the sailors and mass of Australians is of the friendliest description.

It is reported that the boycott of the Americans is confined to the I. W. W., which is insignificant in number and influence.

SANTA BARBARA SHAKEN AGAIN; 4 STATES ROCK

Four States Shaken.

Kansas City, Mo., July 30.—(AP)—Earth tremors of low intensity were felt early today in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico. They did no damage. In Kansas two shocks were reported, one lasting for three minutes. In all four states the effect was confined to the rattling of dishes on shelves and the shaking of windows and doors.

Flivver Hits Man; He's Not Hurt; Flivver Is

J. H. Winnermark, 1734 Rasher street, and a flivver collided in Lake Forest yesterday. Mr. Winnermark sustained the smaller amount of damage. Two of the wheels passed over his chest, but he got up from the roadway, shook himself, and said he thought he was all right. Then he commiserated A. C. Peterson, watchman at Ferry hall, the girls' school in the suburb, on the fact that the wheels had been thrown out of line.

BANK DOLLARS ONLY IOWA ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Des Moines, Ia., July 30.—[Special.]—The banking situation in Iowa reflects the strengthened financial basis of agriculture. Liquidation of farm debts has been proceeding at a rapid rate since the uplift in farm prices. One of the leading banks in the state says its loans to country banks are 40 per cent less than a year ago.

Where last year it had $3,000,000 out in the rural banks, today it has only $700,000. This is only a fifth of the volume of such loans it had out in the peak year, 1925. It is a typical index to the degree in which the farmer has got on his legs again.

Decrease in Loans.
During the last year a decrease of $24,500,000 in loans and discounts has been registered in 825 savings banks, 373 state banks, and 19 trust companies, and a decrease of about $11,000,000 in bills payable and rediscounts. These two items are deemed significant by L. A. Andrew, state superintendent of banking, as denoting the improvement in both farming and banking.

Meanwhile the only army of the unemployed in Iowa seems to be the bankers' dollars.
Banking in this state seems to have shaken out the overripe stuff. The experts say the failures of the last two years or so have removed all the unsound spots.

Had Too Many Banks.
Like most other agricultural states, Iowa had too many banks and too many were run by persons who knew nothing about banking. Out of 1,217 state banks, including savings banks

CHARGE JULY WHEAT HAS BEEN CORNERED STARTS U. S. INQUIRY

Charges that a corner exists in the July wheat market were made yesterday to Board of Trade directors and to Dr. J. T. Duvel, the government's grain futures administrator.

Dr. Duvel issued a call for a report on trades in July wheat, with the individual names, and will strive to determine the extent of the interests behind the recent sharp rise in this class of grain. He asserted that there was apparently nothing serious in the situation.

President F. L. Carey of the Board of Trade declined to make any statement, although a special meeting of the directors was called to consider the condition complained of.

Others declared there might be a sensational rise in the market today if the shorts, alarmed at the prospects of further advances, start to bid in wheat to cover their contracts.

Yesterday the close was at $1.57, a gain of only 1/4 cent. Such fireworks as came were on Tuesday and Wednesday, on each of which rises of more than 1 cent were recorded.

Arthur W. Cutten denied several days ago that he had any interest in July wheat. The cash houses are said to have delivered more than 1,000,000 bushels in the last two days.

The rise in the market is attributed generally to the disposition of farmers to hold their grain.

and trust companies, ninety-eight today are in receivership, and out of the national list, somewhat under 300 in number, a dozen or so have failed. It represents a trouble period of some two years.

In most instances the great fault was too heavy a load of loans on land at too high valuation and frozen assets. The state banking authorities declare everything in shipshape now, and that this fall affairs will be better than ever.

EDITOR SAID CITY WAS BROKE; FINED

Covington, Ky., July 30.—[AP.]—Bruce E. Susong, editor of the Kentucky Post, an afternoon newspaper, today was fined $15 and costs in police court on a charge of publishing an article tending to injure the credit of the city of Covington.

The charge was made by Mayor

Daniel O'Donovan following publication of an article in which it was alleged the city "was broke."

The defense attorney sought to have the fine increased so that an appeal might be made but the judge refused. Under a Kentucky law an appeal cannot be made unless the fine imposed amounts to $20 or more.

'Bridge Field Day' of Mrs. W. G. Hibbard Latest Innovation

BY NANCY R.

Mrs. William Gold Hibbard is busy proving that "gold fields" aren't the exclusive property of our schools and colleges, for this summer she's giving a series of them—the title is her own choice—out at her beautiful Winnetka establishment.

Each week she invites a group of her friends, "athletic young women who play bridge," as some one called them the other day, to gather at her house for tennis, luncheon, and bridge, and the enthusiasm with which the plan has been greeted is rapidly putting the custom on the map as one of the smartest modes of summer daytime entertaining.

Mrs. Hibbard's house and garden have long been the delight and envy of all who know them, and this year she's added a rare feature to her grounds in the shape of an inclosed squash court (the only inclosed outdoor one along the north shore, I think), which stands to the south of the main house, and is reached by means of a wooded and winding path. Several of these paths diverge from the house, each yielding a delightful vista to the observer who reaches it in a comfortable chair on the hospitable veranda and lets his eyes wander gardenward. I'm told Mrs. Hibbard sat on this same veranda and planned just how the paths should be laid out to the most pleasing advantage.

Extending to the west of the squash court, which adjoins the excellent garden tennis court, is a sunny tea terrace, shaded by bright orange awnings and backed by trellised vines—quite the most enticing sort of place for a cooling drink. A wee stone gnomes stands guard in the center of the terrace, a nice, snuffing little gnomes, that spreads his geniality to all who come within his range.

Day's News in Society

Chicagoans are active in the summer social activities on the Massachusetts north shore, according to a correspondent in that region. Mrs. Bernard F. Rogers and Mrs. Mabel Leary were among the patronesses for the gala day program, at Magnolia on Tuesday, for the benefit of the Travelers Aid society. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Small Moore have arrived to spend August with Mr. Moore's mother, Mrs. William H. Moore, at her Rockmorse estate at Prine's Crossing.

Richard T. Crane Jr. has added to his extensive holdings of property on the Essex and Ipswich rivers and has purchased a large tract of land of the Raymond estate, near Dean's Island. Work is progressing on the mansion house at Castle Hill.

Mrs. J. Wallace Wakem of 21 East Elm street and Miss E. R. Wakem are making a short stay at Annisquam, Mass. Mrs. James H. Douglas of 4830 Woodlawn avenue and Mrs. D. F. Hopkins have been at Swampscott for a while.

Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt and her brother, Lewis Allen, stopped at Magnolia during their tour of New England.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clay Jr. of 227 East Delaware place are among the latest Chicago arrivals at the Mount Washington hotel in Bretton Woods, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrage D. Butler of Hinsdale have departed for a three weeks' trip to Lake Louise and Glacier National park.

Mrs. Joseph L. Ward and her daughter, Miss Katherine Card of Highland Park, are in California for a stay, after which they plan to tour the Canadian Rockies, returning to Chicago about Aug. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mack of 850 East 56th street announce the birth of a son, Walter Merriman Mack, at the Chicago Lying-in hospital on July 22. Mrs. Mack was formerly Miss Viola Merriman.

BY FRENCH LANE

Another California-Kentucky race conflict was fought out at Hawthorne yesterday, and when the smoke of battle cleared it was about a fifty-fifty split, although the folks from the golden west claimed the edge because the Hand Grenade filly, Contusion, captured the Winnetka purse, the day's headliner.

But Kentucky fans were just as jubilant when former Senator Cam den's 2-year-old, Dark Phantom, all but ran away with the Jane purse, the secondary feature, fashioned for fillets of that division. Both winners were overwhelming favorites and the race goes out just about as much profitable fun for it as the folks from old Kentucky and those from the Pacific seaboard.

Contusion a Game Filly.
Contusion conquered a formidable band of route givers in the Winnetka and came from behind in game fashion after Mary Ellen O. and My Idol had frayed far in front during the early part of the mile and seventy yards journey.

Contusion was laying in third position most of the way, and when the real struggle started at the head of the stretch Jockey Mortensen brought him up with a rush. It took him but a half-furling to pass the two leaders and come on to win by three lengths. Ike Wells' Tip Top Inn also withed with considerable speed and gave the place money, while My Idol was third.

Only four starters were brought to the post in the two year old stake and it was just a parade for Dark Phantom, although Myra M. came in for considerable support and the visitors from west supported Middle O. Quency in stout fashion.

The Camden filly broke in front and it was only a question of how far she would win and her margin at the finish over Etiole du Quency was 8 lengths. A neck back was Driftwood Blaze in third place.

Winners Well Played.
Well played horses came down to win both the first and second numbers, Mortensen being the winner of the opener with Scotland Forever second and Ben Handley third. In the second Yoo Hoo Boys Believe Me and Shining Gold to the wire.

The consistent George Groom beat the fast finishing Sweet Grass and Walter Ann in the third, while G. Frank Crossman's Orpheus got up to capture the sixth in the most exciting finish of the day. He was just able to outstay Alexander Moore and Max Brick.

The seventh race brought victory to the Dearborn stable's Frankman at fairly good odds. Jockey Allen getting him away in front and having enough to reserve to last it out, with Diversity second and Extra Edition third.

Frankman was claimed out of the race by agents for G. Frank Crossman.

Cattle again advanced to a new high for the year to date. Forty 1441 lb steers sold for shipment to New York at $15.25 or 25c above previous top this week, 60c above the high point at last week and $2.25 higher than the top in June. A year ago this week best sold at $11.75, two years ago at $11.80, three years ago at $10.75, and four years ago at $10.25.

Yesterday's cattle market ruled steady to 25c higher, with 1,077@12.10 lb steers at $15.10. Quality graded only fair. Comparatively few selling above $14 mark, with common 1,000@13.00 lb native grassers at $12.75@13.50. Choice 957 lb corn fed yearlings reached $14.65. Some 1,299@14.49 lb "cane" fed Oklahoma's sold at $12.65@14.20. Some 1,225 lb Montana grassers went at $9. Kansas grassers at $7.25@8.40 and thin Texas grassers at $6.25. Butcher stock closed strong and calves steady to 25c higher. Stocks and feeders fairly active and steady.

Hog market opened active on better grades at strong to 35c higher prices, which indicated the sharpest upturn at the start, closed at the 19.00 level, while heavy and common hogs lost the slight early gain and sold on a tophavey trade late. Fancy 160 lb averages out-sold heavy hogs, bringing $14.25, the top for load lots, which equaled Wednesday's late top, while prime 200 lb hogs were released at $14.10. A small package of 200 lb averages reached $14.30. Common to fair quality mixed and packing hogs have been accumulating during the week and a good share of the 19.00 level at the close was of these classes. General average cost advanced 10c at $12.40. On the corresponding Thursday a year ago top hogs sold $1.00 below the preceding day.

NATIVE LAMBS $14.50.
Brisk competition sent top native lambs to $16.00, equal to the highest of the month and $1.25 above the highest native lamb sale at the close of last week. Bulk of better grades changed hands at $15.25@15.50, with packers refusing to pay above $15.65 for best sorts, while city butchers bought at $15.75. Outsiders paid the top for one deck of 75 lb Illinois stock. Best western range lambs available were Oregon or fairly good killing flesh, which sold at $15.50. Aged sheep were scarce and steady. Feeding lambs held firm.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 3,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 4,000 sheep, against 2,299 cattle, 34,138 hogs, and 8,234 sheep the corresponding Friday a year ago.

Yesterday's hog purchases, by Chicago packers including details, follow:
